Paperwork:

SportsArt assigned jobs: The SportsArt Warranty Parts/Work Authorization form is shipped with the repair parts required or may be provided to you directly. The authorization also serves as your labor claim form. You should always read the service notes and review the Warranty Labor. Comment at the top of the authorization form to determine whether your labor will be reimbursed. To file a labor claim, completely fill out the form, including your invoice number, the full service address, customer name, signature and date confirming that service is complete. Incomplete claims will be denied.

Deadline: Send warranty claims via email within one week of job completion to service@gosportsart.com. All claims require the customer's signature and date. Incomplete and/or late claims will be denied.

Part returns: SportsArt requires that specific parts - drive boards, display boards, incline/stride motors, and batteries - shipped under warranty be returned and we include return label in the original shipment. Labor claims will be processed only when parts are returned. Packages containing returned parts must be securely and carefully boxed using the return labels and include the warranty order paperwork with the part so your account may be credited accurately.
